

Meet One of the Farmers: Vestine Mukahirwa

Vestine Mukahirwa has been farming her entire life. She and her husband have been partnering with Land of a Thousand Hills Coffee Co. for four years. They have three kids who are each in their twenties and are all currently studying. Vestine has been able to provide educational opportunities for her children as she receives sustainable wages for the coffee her farm produces. Vestine says that the income her family receives for their coffee has “changed everything”. They even have a family cow and have built a beautiful home.

Forgiveness is something that is very close to the heart of the Rwandan people. In speaking of that, Vestine tells us, “Forgiveness is a very good process. It’s a good way to live.”